

MAKE YOUR MARK AS A PRESIDENT

You represent students' academic experience championing the creativity and collaboration of your university community. This role is about listening to students' experiences of learning and research, engaging with evidence, and influencing decisions that shape their studies and experience.

You'll engage with the Student Rep system, contribute to university strategy, and ensure the student perspective is heard at the highest levels of university decision-making.

What you believe in:

- The power of education in changing people's lives.
- You listen to the people with lived experience, uplifting students with different perspectives to your own and want to make things better for them.
- Representation is responsibility. You honour the trust students place in you by responding to their proposals with care and evidence.
- Connection creates impact. You work well with others and understand what motivates people.
- You think in the long-term. You want to make sure the structures and initiatives you shape continue to serve students long after your term ends.
- You lead with authenticity. People trust your voice because it's grounded in honesty and purpose.

SOUND LIKE YOU?
